

Licence Manager

University Biomedical Services

Job Reference: AQ41362

Licence Manager

Salary:

£40,521 - £54,395

Contract:

Permanent

Location:

Cambridge

Department:

University Biomedical Services

Responsible to:

Head of Licencing

Working Pattern:

Full Time

Purpose of the role

To assist the Director for Governance and Welfare, the Head of Licencing and UBS Administration team to deliver licencing systems and processes for UBS facilities. This will require close liaison with the Home Office to ensure that University licencing processes and procedures continue to remain compliant with legislative and Home Office requirements.

This role will include liaison with facility managers and the UBS Directorate regarding changes to designated areas, to maintain and manage changes to the University Establishment Licence. In addition, the role will deliver an effective and efficient personal and project licence application and amendment process, which delivers high quality applications to the Home Office, as well as acting as AWERB and AWERB Operations Committee Secretariat.

Additionally to act as Named Training and Competency Officer (NTCO) under ASPA to ensure systems are in place such that all individuals applying for personal or project licences, or licence amendments are aware of the training required, and their responsibilities for working under their licences and the support available from UBS.

Key responsibilities

New Project Licence applications

Will work directly with the Director for Governance and Welfare and the Head of Licencing in the delivery of efficient and transparent processes designed to support researchers writing new project licence applications and amendments to existing project licences. This will require involvement in both group training sessions delivered through the UBS Training Centre delivering the Project Application Drafting Course (PADC), Project Support Team (PST) meetings, and delivery of 1:1 sessions with project licence holders or research teams.

The role holder will be required to review and assess draft applications and determine whether they contain the complete and correct information for the application/amendment to progress to AWERB and onto the Home Office.

Where necessary they will identify deficiencies and explain to the writer of the application where changes are required, and provide appropriate support, for the application to be changed in order to reach an acceptable quality. This will require up to date knowledge of legislative and Home Office requirements, as well as knowledge from across the biomedical research sector, including for example 3Rs and accepted best practice, to ensure that the applications are compliant and in line with the requirements.

New Personal Licence applications

Work directly with the Director for Governance and Welfare and the Head of Licencing in the delivery of efficient and transparent processes designed to support researchers applying for a new personal licence and amendments to existing personal licences. Support the UBS Admin team with the review of training records and Personal Licence reviews and the transfer of personal licences to and from the University. The role holder shall review up to date legislative and Home Office guidance regarding the Personal Licence application process, updating policies and procedures as necessary to ensure continued compliance.

AWERB and AOC

Act as Secretariat of the University's AWERB and AOC meetings, being responsible for the compilation and delivery of, within 5 working days of the meeting, the AWERB's recommendations to researchers attending AWERB. Be an active participant of AWERB, contributing advice and information.

Support the Director for Governance and Welfare and the Head of Licencing with booking applications and amendments into AWERB, liaising with the UBS admin staff to ensure that applications and presentations are received in a timely fashion.

Named Training and Competency Officer (NTCO)

As NTCO, the role holder will ensure that everyone planning to work with animals under ASPA (including non-licensed people) at the University is known either by them or the other NTCOs, in order to ensure that competence records are up to date and the necessary license authorities are in place before work commences.

The role holder will provide advice and guidance on training and assessment, supervision, carrying out of procedures, study design and continuous training in line with legislative and Home Office requirements, and working in conjunction with the Director for Governance and Welfare, the Head of Licencing and the Training Centre Manager, for development of training initiatives to ensure these are compliant and meet the requirements. This will include review of existing course materials and delivery, updating or developing new course materials where necessary. The role holder may also deliver licencing training within the Training Centre programme, which will include delivery of training to departmental staff as well as other staff and students from across the University and from external organisations.

Home Office Liaison Contact (HOLC)

As a HOLC they will be a key contact between the Home Office and the University regarding licence applications and other matters. The role holder will liaise with the Inspectorate, the University Establishment Licence Holder (ELH), Named Veterinary Surgeons (NVSs) and Biofacility Managers (NACWOs).

The role holder will be responsible for making changes to the Establishment Licence (PEL) on ASPEL when required and ensuring the PEL is up to date and accurate.

Non-regulated procedures

Manage processing of applications for completion of non-regulated procedures from across the University, which includes but is not limited to procedures completed for training purposes, certain wild type species work, and research completed overseas. The role holder will maintain the procedure for receiving and processing such applications, against the necessary framework and provide advice to applicants where applications cannot be authorised. Where research is being conducted overseas, intended for inclusion in research papers published under the University of Cambridge, the role holder must ensure that the proposed work will still meet the necessary statutory and Home Office guidelines in the UK, providing advice to researchers where applications do not meet these requirements as advised by the AWERB.

Policy and compliance role

The role holder will support the Director for Governance and Welfare and the Head of Licencing review departmental policies and procedures in line with any changes to legislative, statutory, and Home Office regulations / guidance; providing advice on the implications of this for the University as well as updating / developing policies and procedures as required to ensure continued compliance. These changes will affect the Project and Personal Licence application processes for researchers across the University, as well as external research partners.

From time to time the role holder could be asked to perform other tasks within the grading of the role

The University

The University of Cambridge is one of the world's oldest and most successful universities. We are a renowned centre for research, education, and scholarship that makes a significant contribution to society. The University is consistently ranked amongst the top universities in the world. Our affiliates have won more Nobel Prizes than any other University.

Our sustained pursuit of academic excellence is built on a long history of first-class teaching and research within a distinctive collegiate system. For eight centuries our ideas and innovations have shaped the world. Our principal goal is to remain one of the world's leading universities in an increasingly competitive global higher education sector. Today the University of Cambridge is at the centre of a cluster of over 4,300 businesses employing 58,000 people.

Our capital investment projects include the West Cambridge site, the North West Cambridge development and the growth of the Biomedical Campus in the south of the city. The North West Cambridge development includes the opening of a primary school – the first in the UK to be managed by a University. So we are deeply embedded in, and committed to serving, our local community. These are all conspicuous signs of a University that is not only adapting to new needs, but also anticipating the future.

Our mission is to contribute to society through the pursuit of education, learning, and research at the highest international levels of excellence. Our core values are:

- freedom of thought and expression; and
- freedom from discrimination.

About Us

The University is one of the world's leading academic centres. It comprises 150 faculties and departments, together with a central administration and other institutions. Our institutions, museums and collections are a world-class resource for researchers, students and members of the public representing one of the country's highest concentrations of internationally important collections.

The University has an annual income of £2 billion. Research income, won competitively from the UK Research Councils, the European Union (EU), major charities and industry, exceeds £500 million per annum and continues to grow.

The Colleges and the University remain committed to admitting the best students regardless of their background and to investing considerable resources both in widening access and financial support. The 31 Colleges are self-governing, separate legal entities which appoint their own staff. Many academic staff are invited to join a College as a Teaching Fellow, which provides a further social and intellectual dimension. The Colleges admit students, provide student accommodation and deliver small group teaching.

The University awards degrees and its faculties and departments provide lectures and seminars for students and determine the syllabi for teaching and conducting research.

Our instinct for seeking out excellence and setting up enduring and mutually beneficial collaborations has led us to establish strategic partnerships across the globe. Whether it is the successful Cambridge-Africa Programme involving universities in Ghana, Uganda and elsewhere on the African continent; or the close association with the government of India to pursue new research in crop science; or the creation, with Germany's Max Planck Institutes, of a Cambridge-based centre for the study of ethics, human economy and social change – international partnerships are now an inextricable part of the University's make-up.

“Cambridge graduates and researchers have made – and continue to make – a colossal contribution to human knowledge and the understanding of the world around us. Their work touches on the lives and livelihoods of everyone from patients diagnosed with life-threatening diseases, to residents of areas critically affected by climate change, to children growing up in conflict zones. It has a lasting impact on our society, our economy and our culture: the world is truly a better place thanks to their efforts.”

Stephen Toope, Vice Chancellor 2019

Working at the University

Working at Cambridge you will join a diverse, talented and innovative community, with more than 18,000 students and over 16,000 staff from all walks of life and corners of the world.

The University continually explores strategies to attract and retain the best people. It is committed to supporting its staff to achieve their best. We are a fair, diverse and inclusive society and we believe our staff are our greatest asset. There is strong commitment to developing institutional leadership and supporting and encouraging staff development at all levels.

We offer a variety of roles including academic, research, professional, managerial and support roles. We also offer extensive benefits and excellent learning opportunities within a stimulating working environment.

The University's estate is undergoing the most significant transformation in its history. Cambridge has been able to create a new science and technology campus to the west of the city centre, and is now expanding further to the north west of Cambridge including investing in affordable homes for University key workers and community facilities. Even with our continued development, the University remains within walking or cycling distance across the campus. The University is a major partner on the Cambridge Biomedical Campus and we continue to redevelop our historic city centre sites demonstrating our determination to ensure that we can offer the best facilities and opportunities for our staff and students.

Equality & diversity

The University has built its excellence on the diversity of its staff and student community. We aim to be a leader in fostering equality and inclusion, and in promoting respect and a sense of belonging for all. We encourage applications from all sections of society. All appointments are made on the basis of merit. We have an Equal Opportunities Policy, along with a range of diversity networks for women, black and minority ethnic and lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgender staff. More details are available here: <http://www.equality.admin.cam.ac.uk/>

The University has a bronze Race Equality Charter aware, with framework for improving the representation, progression and success of minority ethnic staff and students within higher education. Furthermore, the University's Athena SWAN award recognises and celebrates good practice in recruiting, retaining and promoting women.

Living in Cambridge

Cambridge is rich in cultural diversity. From beautiful University and College buildings, museums and art galleries, quaint gardens and punts on the River Cam, to a vibrant restaurant and café scene, our employees are surrounded by the wonderful features of this unique city.

You can find a wide-range of high street shops and 3 shopping centres, with independent alternatives at the historic market and nestled within the passageways in the city centre. You will find a cinema, bowling alley, a nightclub and various live performances At the Cambridge Leisure Park, with further entertainment options at the Corn Exchange, Arts Theatre and the ADC Theatre. Further information can be found on the Visit Cambridge website.

If you prefer the faster pace of life, London is a 45 minute train journey away. For those travelling from overseas, Stansted Airport is just 45 minutes away and Heathrow Airport under 2 hours away. The University is a short distance from a host of other attractions such as Ely Cathedral, Newmarket Races and various wildlife parks and stately homes. Cambridge is also within easy reach of the beautiful Broads and coastlines of Norfolk and Suffolk.

Relocation Support

The University recognises the importance of helping individuals to move and settle into a new area. We provide support and guidance to those relocating internationally or domestically to take up a post at the University of Cambridge, liaising with other University offices and selected partners to ensure comprehensive relocation support is available. This includes: accommodation, childcare, schools, banking, immigration and transport. If you would like further information, please visit <https://www.accommodation.cam.ac.uk/relocation>. The Shared Equity Scheme and the Reimbursement of Relocation Expenses Scheme provide financial assistance to qualifying new members of staff with the costs of relocating to Cambridge.

Accommodation Service

The University Accommodation Service helps staff, students and visiting scholars who are affiliated to the University in their search for suitable accommodation in Cambridge. The dedicated accommodation team can provide access to a wide range of University-owned furnished and unfurnished properties, and has a database of private sector accommodation available for short and long-term lets. For further information and to register with this free service please visit <https://www.accommodation.cam.ac.uk/>

What Cambridge can offer

We offer a comprehensive reward package to attract, motivate and retain high performing staff at all levels and in all areas of work.

The University offers a wide range of competitive benefits, from family leave entitlement, to shopping and travel discount schemes. Our generous annual leave package contributes to the positive wellbeing of our University employees. The University also has a career break scheme for academic and academic-related staff, with additional flexible working policies for all other staff.

Pay and benefits

The University salary structure includes automatic service-related pay progression in many of its grades and an annual cost of living increase. In addition to this, employees are rewarded for outstanding contribution through a number of regular pay progression schemes. The University offers attractive pensions schemes for employees, with an additional benefit of a salary exchange arrangement providing tax and national insurance savings. Payroll giving is also a simple, tax-efficient way for employees to make monthly donations to charity.

CAMbens employee benefits

We offer a CAMbens scheme for University employees, providing access to online and in-store shopping discounts and cashback. With more than 2,000 participating retailers, employees can save money on a wide range of household expenses, from groceries and clothes, to holidays and insurance and much more. A range of local discounts are also available, helping employees to save money whilst also supporting local Cambridge businesses and a CAMbens Cycle to Work salary sacrifice scheme is also available, which enables employees to save money on transport costs. A 10% discount rate on the purchase of train season tickets, bulk buy tickets and an interest free travel to work loan are also available for staff of the University.

What Cambridge can offer

Family-friendly policies

The University recognises the importance of supporting its staff. We have a range of family-friendly policies to aid employees' work-life balance including a generous maternity, adoption and shared parental leave entitlement of 18 weeks full pay and emergency family care support via My Family Care.

Other family-friendly support includes:

Our highly regarded workplace nurseries, a childcare salary exchange scheme and a high quality holiday Playscheme may be available to help support University employees with caring responsibilities (subject to demand and qualifying criteria). Further childcare information can be found here:

<https://www.childcare.admin.cam.ac.uk/>

The Newcomers and Visiting Scholars Group is an organisation within the University run by volunteers whose aim is to help newly arrived wives, husbands, partners and families of Visiting Scholars and members of the University to settle in Cambridge and give them an opportunity to meet local people. The Office of Postdoctoral Affairs supports the postdoctoral community within Cambridge. Further details are available here: <https://www.opda.cam.ac.uk/>

Your wellbeing

The University's Sport Centre, Counselling Services and Occupational Health are just some of the support services available to University employees to promote their physical and mental wellbeing. There are many societies in Cambridge catering for almost every taste and interest. Whether you want to take part in a sport, participate in music or drama, pursue a hobby, or join a political group, you will almost certainly find that a society exists for this purpose. The University also hosts the Cambridge Science Festival and Cambridge Festival of Ideas, as well as Open Cambridge weekend, which together attract over 50,000 visitors per year. The festivals are a great opportunity to get your first taste of public engagement, through volunteering, supporting hands-on activities or proposing a talk.

Development opportunities

We support new employees to settle in through various activities. The encouragement of career development for all staff is one of the University's values and we put this into practice through various services and initiatives. Our Personal and Professional Development Department provides development opportunities and courses for all University employees. These include face-to-face sessions, online learning modules and webinars. Employees may also apply for financial support to undertake training that will lead to a qualification. We offer reduced staff fees for University of Cambridge graduate courses and the opportunity to attend lectures and seminars held by University departments and institutions. The CareerStart@Cam programme also supports employees in assistant staff roles who do not hold higher education qualifications to develop their skills, experience and qualifications.
